OVER THE PRESIDENT'S VETO.

Anglo-American Peace Treaty Considered in Executive Session by the Senate. House Devotes Its Time to District of Columbia Affairs—Immigration Conference Report Presented.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The senate was in executive session most of yesterday considering the Anglo-American peace treaty, so that little time was given in open session to the transaction of regular legislative work. Early in the day the bill rearranging the judicial districts of Texas was passed over the president's veto by the unusually heavy majority of 57 to 1, the negative vote being that of Mr. Caffery of Louisiana. The effect of the veto is to make the bill a law without further reference to the president, as it already has passed over the veto in the house.

Mr. Pettigrew (Ind. S. D.) sought to have the bill relative to amending the timber culture laws recalled from the president to correct an error. Mr. Hill (Dem. N. Y.) interposed the legal point that it was beyond the power of congress to take a bill out of the hands of the president to amend it on matters of substance. It might overcome the veto power by withdrawing a bill from the president when it was about to be vetoed. The resolution went over. On motion of Mr. Sherman the senate went into executive session and so remained until adjournment.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The house devoted the whole day to District of Columbia and eight bills of more or less local importance were passed. The certificates of election of the presidential electors forwarded to the house by the secretary of state were submitted and ordered to lie on the table in anticipation of the counting of the electoral vote on Wednesday. The conference report on the immigration bill was presented and notice given that it would be called up today. Mr. Bartholdt (Rep., Mo.), who fought the first report, and it will be adopted, it is believed, practically without opposition. A resolution was adopted requesting the secretary of the interior to inform the house what action had been taken to enforce the terms of the treaty of 1868 with the Navajo Indians, by which these Indians are required to remain in the limits of their reservation.

ARBITRATION TREATY.

Senator Hill Wants the Document Considered in Open Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The Anglo-American arbitration treaty was under consideration by the senate the greater part of yesterday. The entire proceeding was in executive session and consequently behind closed doors. The first half of the session was spent in debating a motion introduced by Senator Hill to consider the treaty in open senate and the most animated part of the proceeding was based upon this motion. The debate was characterized by several sharp passages at arms between the author of the motion and Senators Morgan, Lodge and Sherman, the three last named contending strenuously for the observance of the senatorial custom of secrecy in dealing with the treaty. It was stated that it was the wish of the administration that the public should be excluded from the debates. The only vote of the day was secured on the Hill motion, which was defeated, the count showing only 9 for and 49 against. This was not considered as in any respect a test vote, as there are known to be many senators opposed to the treaty who did not favor a departure from the ordinary practice of the senate.

To Knock Out Pool Rooms.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Representative Gillett yesterday introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor to conduct pool selling, lotteries, etc., by means of telegraph, telephone and other means of transmitting messages. It is made unlawful to seek to have such a message sent and also for a corporation or individual to transmit it.

Tinplate Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The Republican members of the ways and means committee yesterday worked on the iron and steel schedule of the new tariff bill and made considerable progress. Tinplate was put at 1½ cents a pound, which is a compromise rate as the Wilson duty was 1.2 cents and the McKinley duty 2.2 cents.

Declared a Dividend.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The comptroller of the currency has declared a dividend in favor of the creditors of insolvent National bank of Illinois at Chicago, of 50 per cent.

Last of the Steel Pool.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 9.—The earnest money which the members of the late steel pool deposited with Commissioner Griscom as guarantees that they would faithfully observe the laws of the pool will be refunded this week. Nearly all the steel producers are now selling to brokers, and thus the last vestige of pool dominance has been disposed of.

The supper was pronounced a great success.

DISASTROUS VOYAGE

Admiral Bunce's Blockading Squadron Meets Serious Accidents.

TERRIFIC STORM ENCOUNTERED

Six Men Washed Overboard and Only Three Rescued—The Ship's Carpenter Crushed to Death and the Plumber Has His Skull Mashed by the Wreckage—Other Seamen Injured.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 9.—Admiral Bunce's blockading squadron made this port yesterday after a disastrous voyage from Hampton Roads. Three men were lost overboard from the battleship Maine during the gale of Friday, one man was crushed to death on the cruiser Marblehead, another was fatally injured and six others were so badly hurt that several may lose limbs. The details of the accidents on the Marblehead are not obtainable, but it seems that the cruiser made bad weather of the blow. Last night as she laid off the jetties she presented a dismantled appearance. Her forecabin is stove in, a portion of her superstructure and two hatches carried away.

The heavy seas that swept her decks also carried away her searchlight, lower port boom, smash the rails and swept overboard the lifeboats. Carpenter Shawbert was crushed to death in the forecabin when it was wrecked by a monster wave and plumber Hickey had his skull crushed by the wreckage and probably will die. The six seamen who were injured are believed to have been hurt at the same time, but the officers of the vessel are reticent as to the details of the accident. It is understood that the injured men will be brought ashore for treatment today. Carpenter Shawbert was buried at sea. Other vessels of the fleet show marks of their voyage, the upper work and deck hamper being damaged.

The squadron weighed anchor in the roads Thursday morning and put to sea. Friday evening the weather thickened and by night it was blowing a gale. The Indiana returned to the roads, owing to the condition of her turrets. The rest of the fleet pointed their noses into the storm and headed south. When about 50 miles off Hatteras the fleet encountered the full force of the blow. Open squadron formation was maintained, and the vessels were put in order for a seige of weather. The battleship Maine rolled in the big seas, the water washing her decks at every plunge. It was late Friday afternoon that the accident which cost three seamen their lives, and three others were rescued only by prompt and heroic work.

A gang of men were ordered forward to make more secure the lashings of the big guns. The deck was deluged and the wind was freshening every moment. The men were at work with the lashings when an unusually heavy sea curled over her bows and swept aft. Six of the gang were picked up and carried overboard before they could escape the wave. When the cry of "man overboard" was carried back there was a scene of momentary confusion, but in an instant the splendid discipline of the crew was apparent.

Life buoys were cut off and the order quickly given to get a boat overboard. The high seas made this a work of peril and difficulty, but a boat's crew under Naval Cadet Walter R. Gherardi, son of Rear Admiral Gherardi, retired, was finally lowered, excellent seamanship alone preventing the frail craft from being crushed against the sides of the big battleship.

The drowning men fought bravely, and three of them managed to keep afloat until their mates hauled them from the water. They were Seamen Hassel, Cronan and Freeman. The remaining three, Brown, Nelson and Kogel, were not to be seen. The lifeboat cruised back and forth over the spot, but the brave fellows had given up the struggle and met a sailor's fate. Cadet Gherardi and his boat's crew were highly complimented by the officers for their brave work.

THREE ANNUAL CONVENTIONS.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9.—There are three annual conventions here today of associations representing the fruit and vegetable canning interests of the entire country—the Atlantic Coast Packers' association, the Western Packers' association, and the Canning Machinery and Supplies association. These three associations represent a capital of more than $50,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The petition of the sugar planters of the south and west for an appropriation of $1,048,000 to pay the bounty in full on the crop which was planted under the McKinley law and harvested under the Wilson law will be granted by the house committee on appropriations. The subcommittee on the sundry civil bill had a special meeting to consider the request which had been presented by the congressmen from Louisiana, Nebraska and California, and concluded that the claim was a valid one.

Mr. Anderson says Jones can have the senatorial appointment if he has the courage to ask for it.

It Is Thought It Will Be Able to Pay All Liabilities.

FRANKLIN, O., Feb. 9.—Bank Examiner O. P. Tucker is now in charge of the First National bank of this city, which closed its doors a few days ago. From the present outlook there is a prospect of the assets paying liabilities. A number of pieces of valuable real estate are in the bank's name and it is more than probable that the stockholders will not be assessed. Dr. D. B. Bundy of Middletown is being solicited by depositors and stockholders to accept the receivership.

Practical Joker's Flight.

BELLEVIEW, Ills., Feb. 9.—John Sullivan, a well known society young man and a practical joker, thought he would play a joke on his sister and a lady friend. He hid in an alley as they were returning from a tea and played the part of the daring footpad. When he sprang from his hiding place, instead of screaming his sister jumped back and struck him full in the face with a heavy umbrella and beat him up so badly that the ladies had to take him home when they ascertained who it was.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Charles E. Foley, the ticket seller, and George F. McCoy, the ticket checker, who were arrested last Saturday on suspicion of being responsible for the death of Charles L. The sitting magistrate said no proof had been produced to show that either one of the men struck the blow that is said to have caused Webber's death.

GOT DOWN TO WORK

The General Assembly Rushed Business Through Yesterday.

BILLS PASSED BY THE HOUSE.

Apportionment Bill Laid Over Until Wednesday—House Repeals the Special Verdict Act—Senate Postpones the Non-partisan Prison Board Bill Until Thursday and Passes a Number of Bills.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9.—Both houses of the legislature pushed through a lot of business Monday. The Vandavia report came up, and was referred to the special committee. The house passed the following bills: For the repealing of the special verdict act of 1895; enabling the trustees of incorporated towns to construct or purchase water works; providing for the construction of flood-gates in ditches; providing for the establishment of allotments for cleaning and repairing ditches; joining Jefferson and Switzerland counties in the same judicial circuit; requiring the release of mortgages when paid; authorizing county auditors to place sequestered property upon the tax duplicates. A bill imposing heavy penalties for the wearing of high hats at theatres was defeated.

The roll call for new bills was productive of but a dozen new measures. Among these was one giving the state the right to condemn and pay for right of way for a proposed sewer for the Southern hospital. The rules were suspended and the bill passed. A bill was introduced changing the term of city officers back to two years, and it was engrossed under a suspension of the rules.

The discussion of the apportionment bill was postponed until Wednesday, and the republicans will hold a joint caucus on it tonight.

The senate postponed discussion of the Shively bill for nonpartisan prison boards until Thursday and defeated Senator Collett's bill providing for the readjustment of school districts. It passed the following bills: Creating a superior court for Grant and Howard counties; extending the term of township officers 15 months; authorizing cities, counties and townships to vote aid to educational institutions; two bills making amendments to the Fort Wayne city charter; concerning the construction of joint ditches, providing that these matters may be determined upon at separate sessions of the commissioners of the counties affected; requiring the assessor of one county, where there is a mortgage held by a resident of another county, recorded, to notify the assessor of the county where the holder of the mortgage resides of its existence.

APPORTIONMENT BILL.

Leaders of the Majority Still Opposed to Any Change in the Measure.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9.—The struggle on the apportionment bill did not come in the house Monday when the special order was called on second reading. During the noon hour a conference of the republican leaders was held in the speaker's room, and those members on the republican side who objected to the bill in its present form were present. They were unable to come to an agreement, and it was decided to postpone action upon the measure until Wednesday. The leaders of the majority are still opposed to amending the bill to give Lagrange and Steuben separate representatives. They say if this were done they would have to give separate representatives to Dubois, Pike, Washington, Hancock and one or two other counties, and would have to give two representatives to counties like Tippecanoe and Wayne. There are but three members, Messrs. Babcock, Thomas and Butler, that have threatened to vote against the bill upon passage.

SENATOR SHERMAN has announced his intention to endeavor to get the Senate to take up the Arbitration treaty for consideration at once, but there are several reasons which make it doubtful whether the Senate will during the present session devote enough time to the treaty to dispose of it. The session is rapidly drawing to a close, and besides the appropriation bills there are a number of other important measures upon which the Senate ought to act. In addition there is a growing opposition to the treaty among the silver senators.

In their zeal to give their papers the news of the progress that is being made on the tariff bill some well meaning Washington correspondents have been making a great deal of unnecessary trouble for the committee by sending the rates left in schedules that have been informally considered by the committee to their papers with the statement that they have been definitely agreed upon. Neither Chairman Dingley nor any other member of the committee will consider any duty definitely decided upon until the entire bill is ready to be reported. They do not wish to be commended or condemned for fractions of the bill but for the whole measure, which will be made public when it is completed.

DEATH'S SUMMONS.

Calls Dr. G. C. Smythe, this Morning at Six O'clock.

Dr. Gonzalvo Cordova Smythe died this morning at six o'clock after an illness of several week duration. This announcement causes universal gloom over the city and county where Dr. Smythe was so well and favorably known. In his long term of years as a practicing physician in this community, the deceased had visited every section of this and numerous surrounding counties and his name was almost a household word. Mr. Smythe several weeks ago visited Homer, Ill., where he attended the funeral of a relative. It is thought that it was upon this trip that he contracted typhoid fever and that disease with complications caused his death. Though they were prepared for the worst, his passing away is a severe shock to his relatives and friends.

Dr. Smythe was born in Putnam county, Oct. 31, 1836, thus being in his 61st year at time of death.
He graduated from DePauw in 1858 and took up the profession of physician and surgeon, in which he was one of the most progressive men of his time. Among the colleges from which he received degrees were the Rush Medical, Chicago; Long Island College Hospital, Brooklyn. He was from 1879-85 dean of the Central College of Physicians and Surgeons, Indianapolis; in 1888 was elected president of the Board of Trustees, Central College of Physicians and Surgeons; in 1890-91 he was president of the Indiana State Medical society.
Dr. Smythe was a member of several of Greencastle's societies and home city. On Feb. 17, 1876 he married Miss Jennie Hartley, who with one daughter, Miss Arta, survive him.

A BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Was the Shakspearean Social Party Monday Evening.

The Shakspearean recital given Monday evening at 408 Elm street by Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lammers, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Arnold, Misses Nellie Hammond and Harriet Joslin was one of the most enjoyable social functions ever given in the city. Its novelty added to its general interest. The evening's entertainment opened with a piano forte overture by Mrs. H. M. Smith, after which was given the Court Scene from the Merchant of Venice.
The audience was seated in the front parlor of the residence and the stage occupied the rear parlor with the dining room for dressing apartments. A curtain and miniature stage finished the setting of the piece. The characters were as follows: Duke, Col. Matson; Antonio, B. F. Corwin; Bassanio, Carl Andrews; Shylock, Paul Burlin-game; clerk, H. M. Smith; Portia, Miss Sidelia Starr; Gratiano, Wilbur Starr; Nerissa, Miss Harriet Joslin; Salanio, Miss Lillian Southard; attendants, Miss Belle Resor and Mrs. F. D. Ader. The interesting story of the pound of flesh was beautifully given and old Shylock left the stage, thoroughly despised. The actors all had their lines well in hand and the audience greeted the play with liberal applause. It was a "palpable hit."

The musical numbers of the evening were in the hands of the following: Miss Helen Lockwood, who sang "Good bye to the Leaves," by DeKoven; Miss Nellie Matson, "Spring Song" by Becker, and
"Marjorie," from opera of Rob Roy; Wilbur Starr "Off to Philadelphia" by Battison Hayes. Miss Ellen Joslin played a violin solo from Cavallera Rusticana, by Mascagni, and Miss Myrtle Madden gave a recitation—"When we Et out on the Porch," by Riley. These musical and literary selections were greeted with liberal applause and encores were cheerfully given.

The serious in Shakspeare changed to the comical in the sketch from A Midsummer Night's Dream. The parts were assumed as follows: Prologue, Mrs. F. D.
Ader; Pyramus, Miss Starr; Thisbe, Miss Resor; Wall, Mr. Ader; Lion, Mr. Burlingame; Moonshine, Mr.
Smith; Dog, "Tige." This was one of the best pieces of the evening and the superb acting of the six brought down the house. The closing skit was four scenes and a pantomime from "Babes in the Wood," and this production appealed to the gallery, pit and dome of the theatre. Miss Brownie Florer read the verses after which the curtain was drawn and the pantomime carried out. B. F.

purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:
"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My

Foot

is now well and I have been greatly benefited otherwise. I have increased in weight and am in better health. I cannot say enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. H. BLAKE, So. Berwick, Me.

coveted the wealth of his orphan nephew and niece. Harry Hays and F. G. Gilmore were the babes and a comical pair they were with their nine bushels of toys. Paul Burlingame was the ruffian and Wilbur Starr the protector. The characters of robin red breasts, who covered the babes with leaves were taken by D. L. Anderson and H. M. Smith.

Lack of space prevents a description of the individual delineation of character but the audience pronounced the program an artistic one from start to finish. Refreshments were served at the close of a most delightful evening. The program will be repeated tonight.

JACKSON AND WALLING.

How the Prisoners are Putting in Their Time.

Alonzo Walling has not indicated to whom he will give the miniature Central Bridge constructed by him.
As he has made no presents of like ornaments to women besides his mother, it is supposed that she will be the recipient. In making these ornaments, Jackson and Walling are assisted by the other prisoners.
One arranges the wire, another the muslin and another the fringe.
The last work is tedious, as each thread of muslin must be frayed and pulled apart.

The delay in announcing the final decision by the Frankfort Court of Appeals is supposed to be due solely to the intention of avoiding unseemly haste, and although the decision has been made, it will not be disclosed for several days. The Governor, it is said, will not delay action should the decision be for death. The warrant consigning the two men to death by hanging will be speeded on its way soon after the Court of Appeals shall have spoken.

Every Word True.

An exchange remarks with a great deal of reason and justice that: "The place to take the true measure of a man is not the market place, nor the amen corner, nor the forum, nor the field, but at his own fireside. There he lays aside his mask and you may learn whether he is an important agent, king or cur, hero or humbug. We care not what the world says of him, whether it crowns him with jewels or pelts him with bad eggs. We care never a copper what his reputation may be. If his babies dread his home coming, and his better half swallows her heart every time she asks him for a five dollar bill, he's a fraud of the first water, even though he prays night and morning till he is black in the face, and howls hallelujah till he shakes the eternal hills."

You can Be Well.

When your blood is pure, rich and nourishing for nerves and muscles.
The blood is the vital fluid, and when it is poor, thin and impure you must either suffer from some distressing disease or you will easily fall a victim to sudden changes, exposure or overwork.
Keep your blood pure with Hood's Sar-aparilla and be well.

A car on the Vandalia was derailed at Eaglesfield on Saturday night. In ten minutes after the alarm was received at Terre Haute, the wrecking crew of the road was on its way to the scene. This is the swiftest time on record and shows the triumph of system and electricity. The crew were all asleep at the time at their homes in different parts of the city, but the touching of an electric button called them to their work.
